

Artist Bio - L.F.T.

L.F.T., short for Love Fist Tears, is a DJ, producer, and live act who is rapidly carving out a place in contemporary electronic music. His sound blends new wave and breakbeat-influenced electro, shaped by the distorted drum machines of The Hague and the romantic synth melodies of 1980s San Francisco.

Over the past few years, L.F.T. has released timeless music on respected labels such as Return To Disorder, Mechatronica, Tresor, and Mannequin Records, where his third album is set to drop soon. His past releases also include two full-length albums, one already on Mannequin, and his debut album on Osàre Editions.

As a DJ, L.F.T. navigates the realms of electro and techno with ease, crafting immersive soundscapes of futuristic dread and hopeful intensity. Originally from Hamburg and now based in Berlin, he co-curates nights at the Golden Pudel Club alongside his friend Lukas. The duo also operate Neoprimitive, an independent label dedicated to experimental music.

In addition to his solo work, L.F.T. is one half of the notorious new wave duo Schulverweis, known for their raw basement tape recordings and explosive live shows.

With a new album on the horizon and a fierce dedication to dark, emotional soundscapes, L.F.T. continues to push boundaries and soundtrack the shadows of modern life.
